

HABITO OF A LIFETIME

The capital's latest community mall, the On Nut area's Habito, is a great place to unleash your creative energy. Sitting within Sukhumvit Soi 77's trendy residential and retail T77 development, its offerings include a new co-working space, Hubba-To, aimed at budding artists or designers who need somewhere that inspires. The workshop-style facilities here include a dark room, an art room, a ceramics room and a screening room. There are also some cutting-edge digital tools available, such as laser-cutting machines and 3D printers. With the area home to a burgeoning Japanese expat community, many of Habito's shops and restaurants are Japanese, including TEIEN, the first Thai branch of a premium sushi bar. You can also enjoy Korean BBQ buffet at Saranghae, boxing-yoga hybrid classes at Rajadamnern Singha Muay Thai Academy (RSM) or get a fancy new hairdo at the Korean salon Sunshine by Prestige.
