

Disciplinary action

Any directors, executives, and employees who violate, neglect, omit, or intentionally fail to comply will be considered in violation and will be considered for disciplinary actions. The Company will consider penalties in accordance with the Company's regulations and if the act is against the law, the Company will consider taking further action in accordance with the relevant law.